JOB Food service specialist

We all have our reasons for joining the Army. Regardless of you becoming a career soldier or not, we all leave the Army more mature and stronger in a lot of different ways. The Army opens doors to challenges and opportunities. If we take everything we have learned, the Army can be a jump start to a better future, depending on what you make of it. The Army has helped me overcome fears.

otential savings by implementing account management and policies

- Reduction in food costs: 40% of $1.28B (Projected PWC delivered cost for next 12 mo)

  Average daily delivered cost = $3.5M

  - Will also:
    - Cut labor for KBR
    - Reduce KBR storage
    - Reduce PWC labor
    - Reduce number of trucks in convoy
    - Reduce needed security platforms which returns Soldiers to other duties and saves lives

- BDFA ($17.70) started 1 Aug 05
  - For budgeting and official purposes effective 1 Oct 05

Concluding Objective

Reducing costs and waste associated with LOGCAP a Class I Food Service Operations in the AOR

Implement and enforce portion control

Implement procedures to eliminate carry-out abuse

Eliminate high dollar item self-service bars

Adhere to the DA 21-day CONOPS Menu/employ order help

Initiate account management procedures

Implement demonstrated headcount procedures

Employ and appoint 92G/922A's as COTRs- continuous training is a must
